

D'Eynsford Estate residents have designed and helped our artists paint our play court and I am sure you will agree that it looks fantastic! Project was led by our board member (Tom – see below) and funded by Mayor of London via Young Funder. If you haven't seen it then go and check it out – located in the middle of the estate!

FLY TIPPING IS ILLEGAL

Did you know that disposing items other than household rubbish on the estate, is classified as illegal fly tipping. If you are found to be fly tipping, you could be fined up to £5000 or it could result in a prison sentence. The TMO are monitoring this and reporting those who are caught fly tipping to the environmental officers who will take legal action. CCTV footages, photos and witness statements from residents maybe used in conjunction with any legal action.

If you need to get rid of large items such as furnitures, mattress or white goods then you need to organise this directly with Southwark council. <https://www.southwark.gov.uk/bins-and-recycling/bulky-waste-collections/> / 020 7525 2000
